

BENGAL SOFA

Inspired by a mid-18th century Georgian design that balances elegance and strength. Having a softly shaped serpentine back, scroll-end arm supports, and a traditional horsehair squab cushion. Raised on an arrangement of six square-section walnut legs, joined by stretchers which have been carefully patinated by hand, and leather-wheeled brass barrel castors. Shown here in a fine antique hand-dyed linen with a double row of brass dome-headed tacks.
